Selecting Municipal Representation

With the near approach of the annual municipal elections in urban centres and rural districts throughout the prairie provinces, the time has arrived when citizens might well devote some serious thought to the type of men (or women) who should represent them in the local councils during the coming year.

While at all times the question of the quality of representation on municipal councils is one of considerable importance, this year it is one of much magnitude, partly on account of the difficulties of local government occasioned by problems arising out of the depression and partly because of the restlessness of the changing times and changing viewpoints, particularly on social and economic problems.

From small but vociferous minorities one hears of suggestions and plans for changes which, if put into effect, might constitute a threat to the continued existence of democratic government in this country and there is always a danger, under a democratic form of government, of minority groups imposing their will on the majority, if the majority are apathetic about the conduct of their own affairs.

For this reason, if for no other, it is highly important that the citizens of this country take an active and intelligent interest in their own business—the business of government, whether it be in the local councils, the provincial legislature or the wider Federal arena.

It is unfortunately the case that sometimes municipal election issues are decided by a comparatively small percentage of the electorate because so many refrain from going to the polls to express their desires through the ballot. If this results in the election of representatives unacceptable to the majority and the imposition of policies inimical to their interests those who refrain from casting their ballots on election day have no "come-back" and deserve none.

To many it may seem that local affairs are of little importance. They appear trivial when matched with provincial issues or Federal policies and this misapprehension sometimes leads to an attitude of nonchalance on the part of a section of the electorate.

On the contrary, however, it should be remembered that despite the fact that local municipal units are the creation and, therefore, the creatures of a superior government, nevertheless local self-government is the bulwark of the people and of all government, and with the extension of activities and authority imposed upon municipal councils in recent years is becoming increasingly so.

Not only that, but in many matters closely affecting the lives and welfare of the citizens of the country, the major governments have adopted the custom of seeking the advice and assistance of local municipal representatives in an increasingly large measure. They regard them, properly, as the mouthpiece of the district they serve and more often than not defer to their wishes.

For this reason, as well as the necessity of having men capable of administering local affairs wisely, it is highly important that the municipal electors use care and sound judgment in selecting the men who are to represent them in the councils, that all the electors participate in the function of casting the ballot and that once having made their selection the electors support their representatives as long as they prove worthy of the high trust imposed in them.

If the great majority of the electors take these duties seriously, there will be heard of trivial matters being injected into municipal election campaigns and municipal council debates and there is less likelihood that elected representatives will listen to insistent demands of organized minorities or individuals who seek concessions or make proposals adverse to the interests of the great rank and file of the electorate.

One sometimes hears it stated that it is difficult or impossible to induce the best-fitted to accept nomination for public office. If that is so, it must largely be the fault of the percentage of the electorate who decline to take an active interest in their own affairs, both in the matter of selecting candidates and in giving them hearty support in devising and carrying out measures and policies for the benefit of the community as a whole.

Such comments are not, of course, applicable to all municipalities, and perhaps not even to a majority of them. In many cities, towns, villages and rural municipalities in the three prairie provinces, the electorate demonstrates a highly intelligent and active interest in its own affairs, and as a result their business is conducted wisely and well by capable men and men of integrity who justly command a respect and confidence which is not confined to the communities they serve.

Dog Solves Crimes

Does Valuable Work In Connection With Duties Of Mounted Police

"Dale," a big black and tan with a keen nose and a marked devotion to duty, is now a valued member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police establishment at Calgary.

Dale is a dog who has done such remarkable work in solving a number of crimes in the Calgary district that he has won honorable mention in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police annual report, just off the press. It takes a full page in the report to describe the dog's exploits.

Here are a few of the cases in which Dale distinguished himself:

Eileen Simpson, two and a half years old, wandered away from her home. A search party failed to find her. Dale was called in and did. Under difficult conditions Dale helped police in connection with the murder of Sergeant T. S. Wallace and Constable G. E. Harrison by Joe Posnikoff, Peter Wolken and John Kalmakoff, who were killed themselves in gun battles with the police.

Dale traced a demented man who caused an explosion in a farmer's house from a gasoline saturated suit of underwear found at the cellar door. The same farmer had lost two rolls of wire netting. Dale was taken to the place from which the netting was removed. He picked up the scent, found the wire and led to the arrest and conviction of the thief.

But Dale is ornamental as well as useful. He took first prize in his class at the Calgary dog show.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloating your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body and you feel weak, sunk and the world looks pink. A new bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works at the little bile ducts. That's why Dr. Williams' Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they cleanse the liver and bowels, and get rid of all the poisons that have no remedy in nature. (Succumb to nothing else, else, etc.)

Supplies Reach Coppermine

Hudson's Bay Boat Gets Through The Ice After Difficulties

Relieving anxiety which has lasted for months, supplies have finally reached Coppermine, principal base in the Central Arctic, according to reports reaching Edmonton. Blocked for weeks by huge ice floes in the Arctic the schooner Audrey B., under charter to the Hudson's Bay Company, carrying supplies to the trading posts, has finally made its way through the ice of Coronation Gulf, reached Coppermine, and now is frozen in at that point.

Owners of the schooner, Jack Lickert, Bill Starr, Art Watson and "Slim" Farnell have sent word of their safe passage and a radio telegraph message to this effect has reached Edmonton.

The other Hudson's Bay supply ship made Coppermine safely on October 6. Aboard her was Ray Rose, company post manager of Reids Island, and his bride, the former Miss Lillian Smith of Edmonton.

No Campaign Speeches

Alaskan Woman Is Elected By Visiting Voters By Aeroplane

Alaskan first woman legislator, Flying Nell Scott, was elected without making a single campaign speech. The Seldovia woman's aerial campaign ignored both political practice and traditions of feminine talkativeness. She let her masculine opponents have the first and last word, while she took the votes. She covered the district in an aeroplane, having heart to heart talks with individual voters and key persons in organizations. Her platform was based on popular Alaskan issues: Abolition of fish traps; enactment of social security legislation; financial aid to prospectors; substantial bounties on predatory animals, and more and better aeroplane landing fields.

Letter Of Thanks

Mayor Of French City Voices Gratitude For Gift From Canadians

The pilgrimage of Canadian ex-servicemen and their dependents to Vimy Ridge during the summer was recalled by receipt of a letter of thanks from Mayor Millot, of Valenciennes to Lieut.-Col. J. S. Rankin, D.S.O., former commanding officer of the 45th (South Saskatchewan) battalion.

The letter, voiced the gratitude of the city for the vellum-bound copy of the operation order covering the attack on Valenciennes on November 1, 1918, in which affair the late Sergeant Hugh Cairns of the battalion, won the Victoria Cross.

The day prior to the unveiling of the Canadian Memorial on Vimy Ridge the city of Valenciennes dedicated a street to the memory of Hugh Cairns, and in the course of the ceremony Major G. H. Gilbert, M.C., Yorkton, Sask., on behalf of the 46th Battalion, presented to Mayor Millot the copy of the operation order.

In his letter the mayor said this document was now translated into French, and had been placed in the municipal library "in order that the citizens of Valenciennes might know to whom they are indebted for their deliverance."

Substitute For Gasoline

Amateur Chemist Says Invention Will Benefit The World

An obscure Pittsburgh inventor and interior decorator, who likes to dabble in chemistry on the side, claims to have hit upon a secret formula from which he asserts he has developed a substitute for gasoline.

He believes his discovery, which has not yet been put on the market, or been protected by patents, will "revolutionize the gasoline industry."

The amateur chemist is Frederic J. Hoyer, and, as one example of the manner in which his "gas substitute" will benefit the world, says general use of his "gas" would greatly reduce, if not erase entirely, deaths from monoxide fume poisoning.

In a recent demonstration of his discovery, Hoyer, accompanied by his attorney, A. F. Burkhardt, and a reporter, drove a car with standard equipment fourteen and one-half miles on a gallon of ordinary gasoline, and one-tenth of a mile more on a gallon of what he said was his "gasoline substitute."

At the completion of the last demonstration, Burkhardt declared: "Well, as far as we are concerned, this new fuel is perfected."

Drouth Danger

Little mentioned among the drouth hazards to cattle is the possibility of the animals eating the hearty Sudan grass, cane or any kind of grain sorghum which, although stunted in growth by the dry weather, will stay green long after the normal feed grasses have withered. The Department of Agriculture reports that in eating these plants live stock may consume a deadly dose of hydrocyanic or prussic acid, present in the plants.

A Precious Relic

Interesting History Of Coronation Chair At Westminster Abbey

While the work of preparing Westminster Abbey for the coronation next May is proceeding, one important relic at the Abbey will undergo no renovation, the Coronation Chair, according to a writer in the Manchester Guardian.

Except for dusting it requires nothing done to it, and it would not stand much. The famous stone of Scone—and it had a history in Ireland before it was taken to Scone—has a wide crack which all but rent its solid mass asunder, and iron rings encase the chair. It is not only age which has caused the wear and tear. Though every monarch since Edward I. has been crowned on it, the use it has undergone on those occasions has been negligible.

For a long period of its history it was very poorly looked after. Nearly everywhere it seems, was allowed to sit in by permission of the attendants, or else did so on the sly. An inscription on it, "Peter Abbott slept in this chair, July 5th, 1800," is illuminating. Peter Abbott went into the Abbey at night for a bet that he would carve his name on Purcell's monument. He did not succeed in doing that, but he had no difficulty on the Coronation Chair. The surface of the chair is a mass of scratches made by visitors who wanted to leave their mark on it, and there must have been a time when every Westminster schoolboy deemed it a disgrace if he left school without carving his name on the Abbey's most precious relic.

U.S. Naval Strength

America's Naval Fighting Power Has Been Reduced

An official report disclosed that America's naval fighting power had been reduced since July 1 while other major nations were increasing theirs.

The figures, made public by the navy department, showed the United States, chiefly by scrapping old warships in accordance with provisions of the soon-to-expire London treaty, had cut its naval strength from 324 ships of 1,080,715 tons to 306 ships aggregating 1,062,875 tons.

Berlin's percentage of police is 2.4 per thousand of population, while that of England is 5.65, and France, 3.18.

Now Ease Neuritis Pains Fast

"Aspirin" Tablets Dissolve Almost Instantly

In 2 seconds by stop watch, an "Aspirin" tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work. Drop an "Aspirin" tablet into a glass of water. By this time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. What happens in this glass . . . happens in your stomach.

For Amazingly Quick Relief Get "ASPIRIN"

If you suffer from pains of neuritis what you want is quick relief.

"Aspirin" tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.) Hence—when you take an "Aspirin" tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And this is ready to start working almost instantly . . . headaches, neuritis and neuritis pains start easing almost at once.

Try it. You'll say it's marvelous.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 1—A tribute to the loyalty and spirit of service of the men and women of the Canadian National Railways was paid by S. J. Hungerford in a message to the staff throughout the system in assuming today the office of Chairman of the Board. Mr. Hungerford expressed the belief that through the joint efforts of the management and staff the system could be made of increasing value to the nation. The message follows:—

I know from many years of association the fine sense of loyalty which permeates the entire personnel, and I am confident that through the joint efforts of the management and staff this railway system can be made of greater use and value to the nation and to every community which it serves. The management will endeavour to do those things which are calculated to promote the welfare of the enterprise, and I know that we will have the sustained and enthusiastic support of all officers and employees. Working together in a spirit of good will and co-operation, we will strive with all the means at our command to improve still further the service of the railway in all of its activities.

"I would add a personal word: Service in any capacity with the Canadian National Railways should bring to those who accept it a deep sense of responsibility. The activities of the system, by reason of its size and its history, produce problems every day that call for concentrated and co-ordinated effort. The responsibility attaching to these tasks is deepened by the important factor that the well-being of the country and that of the Canadian National Railways are so closely related as to be inseparable. If this circumstance increases in some way the burden, it makes greater the opportunity to render important public service. I had a full realization of this fact in accepting new duties and responsibilities at this time.

I realize that through the lean years of reduced earnings, as well as through the peak years, Canadian National officers and employees have worked cheerfully and untiringly, each making his or her contribution towards efficient transportation service. We
